

KATHARINA NUTTALL

“Cherry Flavour Substitute”

Frances Records/BAM

RELEASE 7 MAJ

The 7th of may 2008 Katharina Nuttall releases her second solo album, Cherry Flavour Substitute. This is the follow up to her critic praised album This Is How I Feel 2007.

Cherry Flavour Substitute is a collection of reflections about the longing for closeness bordering on fear of inner emptiness, utilization and pornography. The album contains 9 numbers and a version of the Stooges "I Wanna Be Your Dog".

Cherry Flavour Substitute is an epic dark and suggestive album centred on Katharina's characteristic voice that binds the sound picture together.

The album is arranged and produced by Katharina Nuttall and her bass guitarist Lars Jonasson Rinman who has also written some of the material together with Katharina.

The cd is being released on Katharina's own label Frances Records and is distributed in Scandinavia by Bonnier Amigo music.

Katharina is born in Norway in 1972. She grew up in Norway and England. She has lived in Stockholm since 1994 and works as a musician, composer and music producer.

Katharina Nuttall has earlier made progress as a producer for other artists and their best selling albums, she has written film music and released band albums together with her solo debut This Is How I Feel 2007
